Competencies:

Independent: All the choices I have made have been independent choices. I have always had an idea about starting my own business once I finish university - hence the entrepreneurial course.

Creative: My big interest in the visual, has guided many of my choices. Including art course in primary school, a lifelong interest in drawing, AutoCAD on previous education, training as a photographer at the Technical School and now Multimedia Design.

Curious: My interest in becoming wiser about the things that interest me. I read a lot about my interests and I am eager to learn more.

Teachable: Involvement in school and jobs that can be put into perspective with my curiosity.

Laborious: you can as an employer and teacher expect that the work gets done and done as best as possible. I want to get as much as possible out of the time I am assigned a work / education.

Responsible: If I get required to perform a job, it gets done.

Targeted: I have relatively fixed, but overall goals in all my interest areas.

Interests:

For many years I have worked with design, art and photography as a hobby. I have a great interest in graphic design, furniture design, room design and architecture. I like to work with images in PhotoShop, designing in InDesign, Flash and Illustrator, draw, read and generally learn about the things that interest me and improve my skills.

I have in 19-years had a great interest in horses and riding at an amateur level. The responsibility to train and care for a horse, I find interesting, and the long-standing interest has taught me things like patience, perseverance and responsibility.
